

GBA Save File

All the test have been made on a (U) save file (.sav). The first $1E00 bytes of the file are 3 blocks of $A00 bytes for the 3 save slots. They are somewhat similar to SNES SRAM $1600-$1FFF.

Offsets	Description
$0000 - $09FF	Slot 1 data
$0A00 - $13FF	Slot 2 data
$1400 - $1DFF	Slot 3 data
$1E00 - $1EFF	Seems empty
$1F00 - $1F1F	Ascii mark: FINAL FANTASY VI ADVANCE
$1F20	0x01: Game has been saved at least once.
$1F21 - $1FEF	Seems empty
$1FF0	Most Recently Saved Slot.
$1FF1 - $1FF7	Seems empty
$1FF8 - $1FFF	FF6 static save mark: 0x1BE4 x4
$2000 - $23FF	Extra space for slot 1
$2400 - $27FF	Extra space for slot 2
$2800 - $2BFF	Extra space for slot 3
$2C00 - $2FFF	Bestiary for slot 1
$3000 - $33FF	Bestiary for slot 2
$3400 - $37FF	Bestiary for slot 3
$3800 - $5BFF	Quicksave slot
$5C00 - $FFFF	Unused space - Filled with 0xFF

$09F3 - $09F6	Party Z Levels
$09F7 - $09FD	Empty
Checksum
$09FE - 09FF	Slot data checksum (Sum 16 from $0000-$09FD)

Extra Space

Extra block of data was added to the GBA port. Item inventory and Esper data were moved here when compared to the SNES version. The block repeats three times for the three save slots.

Offsets	Description
$2000 - $2003	Current Espers
$2004 - $2007
$2008	01: Autodash config setting
$2009
$200A	01: Game has been marked as completed (a star appears next to the save slot when viewed from the loading screen).
$200B - $200F
$2010 - $212F	Current Items (288 slots; to get GBA specific items, 0x80 is added to the quantity.)
$2130 - $224F	Item Quantities
$2250 - $23FB	(Mostly empty)
$23FC - $23FD	Static mark? 0x474D
$23FE - $23FF	Extra space checksum (Sum 16 + 1 from $2000-$23FD)

Bestiary

Bestiary was included in the GBA version and this block has its data. The size of the block is 1024 bytes including a two byte checksum and it repeats three times for the three save slots. Two bytes are used per monster and the byte order is the same as the monster index order. For a monster to appear in the bestiary, it needs to be slain at least once in a victorious battle. The victory increments a slain counter which gets values from 0x0-7FFF. 0x8000 clears the new entry flag. Total space is  $1022/2 = 511$  slots of which 384 are for pages visible in the game browser, 39 for unlisted monsters and the rest 88 are assumed to be empty. The last two bytes hold the bestiary checksum.

Bestiary
$2C00 - $2F4C	Monster list
$2F4E - $2FFD	Empty space
Checksum
$2FFE - $2FFF	Checksum (Sum16 + 1 from $2C00-$2FFD)

Example values:

$2C00	28	Monster Guard has been slain 40 times.
$2C01	80	New entry has been cleared.

Quicksave Slot

A quicksave option was included in the GBA port and it enables the player to temporary save the game almost anywhere. Quicksave cannot directly be transferred to the other slots in-game, but contains the same data as the other slots plus some additions.

$3800 - 41FF	Regular save slot data
$4200 - 45FF	Extra data slot space

$4600 - 49FF	Bestiary data
$4A00 - 5BFF	Quicksaveslot specific data; Last two bytes being a checksum?
